Well Gets Two Years for Conspiracy.
Judge McCray, of the Criminal Court, yesterday sentenced William Bell, convicted of conspiracy, to the State Prison for two years. Bell was tried two months ago, but the court reserved the sentence. The prisoner was implicated with Smoot and Lindley in the deed for which George Long, a West Indianapolis property owner, came near being swindled out of his belongings.

JOYOUS SONGS TO-DAY

EXCELLENT EASTER PROGRAMMES TO BE HEARD IN THE CHURCHES.

The Observance of the Festival Will Be More General Than Usual—Some of the Singers.

Of all the days in the church calendar Easter is the most festive. At Christmas time there are special services and music, but at Easter time there are profuse decorations, special programmes of music, elaborate exercises in the Sunday schools. In the Roman Catholic and Episcopal churches the event is marked by all the pomp of the church. So general has the observance of Easter become that most of the Protestant churches have followed the others and they now have Easter decorations and music, sermons of the resurrection, the Bible lessons suitable for the day and in the Sunday schools the pupils have programmes of songs and recitations with graduating exercises from the primary to the intermediate departments or Sunday school proper. The musical programmes for this year are arranged and most of them were printed in full in Thursday morning's Journal. At the College-avenue Baptist Church Rev. A. B. Chaffee, of South Bend, will preach. There will be concerted numbers by members of the choir and solos by Miss Parr, Mr. Ebert and Miss Lulu A. Fisher. At the song service in the evening the choir will be assisted by a string quartet; Miss Nannie Branham, Mr. James D. Curley, Mr. George A. Given, Mr. A. I. Mitchell and Mr. Stoughton Fletcher, flute. At St. Paul's Church there is a full and complete programme of music peculiar to the service. Several of the numbers have been composed by Rev. C. R. Hodge, chorister of the church. There is a boys' choir. At the First Presbyterian Church there will be concerted numbers by the choir and in the evening an elaborate song service. Mr. William C. Sterne, violin, will assist. At St. John's Cathedral the full choir will present a programme both for mass and vespers, which has been especially selected for to-day. At Meridian-street M. E. Church the chorus choir will sing under the direction of Mr. Max Leckner. Mrs. Carroll Carr and Mr. John T. Ashbrook are the soloists. At the Central-avenue Church Miss Mary Jeffery will be the soloist. At the First Baptist Church there will be good music in the morning and in the evening a splendid programme of music and recitations. Mr. C. Norman Hassler, of the Schumann quartet, of Chicago, will sing "The Wonderful Story," arranged by Exell, at the morning service.

At the Second Presbyterian Church, the Choral Union of forty-five voices under the direction of Mr. Abrams will sing. There will be organ and violin accompaniments for the anthems and solos. At Santa Peter and Paul's chapel on North Meridian and Fifth streets a "Mass Solenne," by H. J. Delonacker, will be sung for the first time. Mr. C. A. O'Connor will sing the offertory. At the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church Miss Sweeney, Miss McLaughlin, Mr. Andrew Smith and Mr. Geiger constitute the quartet and they will give special numbers at the morning service. The Sunday school exercises at 2:30 will be special also. At the People's Church the choir will sing "The Wonderful Story," arranged by Exell, at the morning service.

At Plymouth Church the children will sing the procession in the morning and the choir will furnish solos and quartet numbers. In the evening there will be a song service and Miss Emma Schellenschmidt, harp. Mr. Adolph Schellenschmidt, cello, and Mr. Overstreet, basso will assist. At St. Mary's Church Mozart's mass in G will be rendered in the morning and at vespers Mozart, Bolman, Rosel and Veisag will be the composers represented. At the Y. M. C. A. there will be a special meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The following is the programme at the Third Christian Church: Voluntary, "Jesus Victor over Death," Porter; "Hail to the Brightness," Lowell Mason; "Tell It Out with Joyful Voice," Filmer; "Christ is Risen To-day," Porter; "Coronet," Woodbury; communion, "Christ the Man of Sorrows," Powell.

The choir of the First German Evangelical Church, corner New York and East streets, will give an Easter song service this evening. Mr. Carl Barus is the director.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM TROUBLES.

The Police Could Not Communicate with the Station House.

There was a practical demonstration yesterday afternoon of the city's need of a special police telephone system. For an hour, from 3 to 4 o'clock, it was utterly impossible to communicate with the police station from any part of the city over the telephone. Patrolmen called up from ten boxes over the city, and a number tried to report through the central exchange, but it was impossible for telephone operator Mitchell at the station either to receive or transmit a message. The officers over the city would ring for fifteen minutes or so and then leave the boxes in disgust. Fortunately there were no extremely urgent calls, but had an officer needed to report a crime upon which special officers should be detailed, would have been all the same. Word was sent to the telephone exchange for an electrician, but it was 4 o'clock before he had succeeded in locating the trouble, which was a broken wire.

TWO COUNTIES AT WAR.

Morgan and Hendricks Disturb Themselves Over a Bridge Deal.

Judge Brown, of the Circuit Court, yesterday heard argument on a demurrer to the complaint of the Wrought-iron Bridge Company against the counties of Morgan and Hendricks. The company is suing for $600 alleged to be due on a bridge contract. The two counties built the bridge jointly, and paid $250 each on the contract. Six hundred dollars is yet due, and the counties are fighting over who should settle the amount. Morgan county claims that Morgan county should pay the balance, and Hendricks should pay because it has the greatest amount of taxable property. Judge Brown struck out one paragraph of the complaint.

Grand Army Notes.

Department Commander Shively has made the following staff announcements: Senior aid-de-camp, Henry C. Tinney, Lafayette; department inspector, Joseph Gill, Washington; judge advocate, B. F. Williams, Washash; chief mustering officer, A. F. Spaulding, Washash; color bearer, C. H. Sailors, Washash.

To-morrow evening Anderson Post will induct recruits and have important matters under consideration.

The Fourth of July committee of the Marion Union Soldiers' Mutual League will meet at G. A. R. Hall this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Robbed Small Boys.

Grant Cook was arrested yesterday morning on a charge of robbery. Grant explains the affair by saying that while drunk Friday evening he had induced several small boys, ranging in age from four to seven years, to get in his wagon and then he drove to the outskirts of the city and compelled Joseph Shay, one of the lads, to get in his wagon and drive him home. Cook says he realized to-day what he had done and sent the watch back. After robbing the boy he is said to have put all of them out and they were found and brought back to the city by some farmer.

The Reform School's Farm Fund.

Treasurer of State School and Auditor Daily yesterday called a meeting of the state finance committee in the Governor's office to consider whether the fund appropriated by the Legislature for the purchase of a farm adjoining the Reform School at Plainfield could be made available at once. The managers desire that the title of the farm be transferred to the school this season. The amount appropriated was $9,000.

Fish Law Must Be Printed.

Attorney-general Ketcham said yesterday in an opinion given Secretary of State Owen that the fish law which was defeated in the House but came to him regularly attested as having properly passed, must be printed with the other laws. It is not within the discretion of the Secretary to go back of the enrolled bill, under the recent Supreme Court decision, unless the bill has been the victim of spoliation.

THEIR CASE WAS "JONAHED."

Number Thirteen and Friday Was Held Responsible for the Verdict.

Oliver Wells, of Hendricks county, was yesterday awarded a verdict in the Superior Court for $508 against the commission firm of Fort, Johnson & Co. Wells sued to recover the value of thirteen head of cattle which were driven off his farm and sold at the Union stock yards. Fort, Johnson & Co. sold the stock on commission. Wells averred that his cattle were stolen, but has not been able to catch the thieves. The commission firm contested the claim of the plaintiff on the ground that he could not identify his stock. The case was tried in Room 1 before a jury. Just before Judge McMaster instructed the jury yesterday a member of the commission firm remarked: "We'll lose this case because there has been a 'Jonah' all through it. The jury goes out on Friday. That's an unlucky day. It's the thirteenth day of the month and there were thirteen steers. We can't hope for a verdict with all this against us."

Teamster Spæth Drops Dead.

Peter Spæth, a teamster living at 68 Kansas street, while driving along Madison avenue yesterday afternoon, fell from his wagon, dead. Coroner Castor was called and stated that he thought the man's death had been caused by heart trouble. His body was removed to Whitsett's morgue. Spæth leaves a wife and two children.

Articles of Incorporation.

Articles of incorporation were yesterday filed with the Secretary of State by the Lawrenceburg Park Association, capital stock, $1,000; Riverside Natural Gas Company, capital stock, $10,000; Indiana Steam Stone Works, capital stock, $10,000; Masonic Temple Company, of Anderson, capital stock, $20,000.

Their Wives Selected the Carpet.

The Statehouse custodian has supplied the private offices of Secretary of State Owen and of Auditor Daily with new Brussels carpet. The patterns were selected by the wives of the officials and show excellent taste.

Iron Bridge for Glenn Valley.

The County Commissioners will purchase an iron bridge for the Glenn Valley ford on the Bluff road south of the city. The commissioners visited the ford Friday and found that a bridge was badly needed.
